The 2012 season-ticket pricing structure reflects an average decrease of 13 percent over 2011 prices. Fans can purchase a baseline reserved seat for an advanced price of $10 (previously $15). The other most dramatic decrease is in the baseline field box seats which dropped from $28 to an advance price of $19.

Schedule — Camelback Ranch-Glendale, featuring the Cactus League’s largest stadium, will host spring-training baseball every day from March 5-April 2.

Day-night doubleheaders featuring post-game fireworks on consecutive Saturdays (March 10 and 17) involving both the Dodgers and White Sox highlight the month along with two appearances apiece by three 2011 postseason clubs (Arizona Diamondbacks, Milwaukee Brewers, Texas Rangers), the 2010 World Series champion San Francisco Giants, and the two host teams’ crosstown rivals, the Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim.

The Dodgers and White Sox also face each other four times, including Opening Day on Monday, March 5.

First pitch is 1:05 p.m. for all games with four exceptions — 7:05 p.m. starts to the two doubleheader night games and March 23 (Diamondbacks @ White Sox), and 12:05 p.m. on March 2, getaway day for the visiting Brewers and White Sox.

Promotions — In addition to the three post-game fireworks displays (March 10, 17, 23), Camelback Ranch-Glendale also will offer Fan Fest (March 3), “$1 Dog Days” and “Kids Run The Bases” (every Sunday), and “Seniors Stroll The Bases” (every Wednesday).

Parking — As always, parking at Camelback Ranch-Glendale is free!
